The University of Maryland is an equal opportunity institution with respect to both education and employment. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in its programs and activities as required by federal law (Title VI, Title IX, Section 504, and state regulations).

Inquiries regarding compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, Title IX of the 1972 Educational Amendments, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, or related legal requirements should be directed to:
Director, Office of Human Relations, 1107 Hornbake Library, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742, 301-405-2838, TTY: 301-314-9993

Inquiries concerning the application of Section 504 and Part 34 of the C.F.R. to the University of Maryland College Park may be directed to:
Director, Disability Support Services, 0126 Shoemaker Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742, 301-314-7682, TTY: 301-314-7683

Welcome to the University of Maryland. You are at the beginning a challenging and wonderful educational experience and the staff of the Orientation Office is here to assist you through your transition to the University.

We hope that the information that you find in this student handbook will be a helpful starting point as you search for resources and make connections within the college community.

Travel is just one of the themes woven throughout this handbook. We, in the Orientation Office, want to be among the first people to share our best wishes as you start "going places" and we are here to support you along the way.

Sincerely,

The Entire 2001 University of Maryland Orientation Staff is a service provided to students at the University of Maryland. Advisors can assist students with selection of courses, determining a major, and help to ensure efficient progress toward their degree.

Academic advisors are available for all students in each of the 12 colleges. If you have decided on a major, you can look in the Schedule of Classes to find the names of major advisors. You can also go directly to the office of your department. If you are undecided about a major, you should see an advisor in the Division of Letters and Sciences.

It is recommended that you see an advisor at least once a semester to choose courses, check requirements, and make sure you are on the right track. However, you should not limit your visits to registration times. Advisors also provide information about academic matters, career choices, the job market, internships, and other academic opportunities.

To make the most of your advising, ask your advisors the following questions:

- What CORE or USP requirements do I need to fulfill?
- What requirements do my transfer credits fill?
- Is there a language requirement in my major?
- What is my math requirement?
- When will I graduate?
- How do I register for next semester?
- Are all of my classes open?
- Can I waitlist a course?
- What are some alternate courses I should consider in case my courses are full?
- What about an internship or co-op?
- What about taking classes at another school?

The Division of Letters and Sciences was created in order to provide students with the ability to explore the academic world around them. It is not a degree granting college, but rather a division that seeks to adequately advise students who are still unsure of the academic and career path they wish to follow. Students in Letters and Sciences receive extensive advising and career-path exploration that helps them make informed and well-thought-out decisions.

Law/Health Professions Advising Office, directed under the Division of Letters and Sciences, advises those students who wish to enter Medical, Pharmacy, Dental, Physical Therapy, Nursing, or Law professions. Although these are not defined majors at UMCP, there are specific courses students should take in order to qualify for admission to professional schools in these areas.

Approximately 50 students have decided to declare themselves Individual Studies students. These students have chosen not to follow a formal major program designed by the University but instead, choose to create their own unique academic program. Essentially, they create their own "major" and curriculum. Students must draft a proposal, secure a faculty sponsor, and make a presentation before a committee before their plans are approved.

Airplanes, submarines, the Ford Taurus, and parts of the America 3 yacht were tested in the Glenn L. Martin Wind Tunnel on Campus.

The CORE (Common Requirements in Education) program is designed to give all students a firm foundation in general education courses. CORE courses must be completed in addition to major and departmental requirements, but most of the CORE courses also apply towards a major program as well. CORE classes may not be taken on a PASS/FAIL basis.

Please note: Students who entered UMCP before May 1990 with 9 credits or above (no matter where they completed the credits) can complete either the CORE program OR the earlier general education program, otherwise known as University Studies Program (USP). Consult the Undergraduate Catalog for more information.

I. Fundamental Studies (first 60 credits)

A. Intro to Writing: One ENGL101 (ENGL 101, 101A, 101H, or 101X) must be taken within the first 60 credits. Exemptions from this requirement are made for students whose SAT Verbal score is 670+, or who received a 4 or 5 on the AP English Language and Composition test.

B. Mathematics: One MATH course must be attempted within the first 30 credits and completed within the first 60 credits. Classes that satisfy this requirement are MATH110, 113, 115, or any 100 or 200 level MATH or STAT course except MATH 210 and 211. Exemptions from this requirement are made for students whose SAT math score is 600+, or who received a 3 or above on the Calculus AB or BC test.

C. Professional Writing: One "Junior English" course must be taken after the completion of 56 credits. Students may choose from a list of 300-level ENGL courses. Exemptions from this requirement are made for students who merited an A in ENGL101, except for Engineering students.

- A. Three courses in Humanities and the Arts
 - 1. HL: One Literature course
 - 2. HA: One History or Theory of the Arts course
 - 3. One additional HL or HA, or an HIO (Humanities "other") course
- B. Three courses in Math and Science, one of which MUST be a laboratory course
 - 1. PS: Up to two Physical Science courses
 - 2. LS: Up to two Life Science courses
 - 3. MS: Up to one course from the Math/Formal Reasoning List
- C. Three courses in Social Science and History
 - 1. SH: One Social or Political History course
 - 2. SB: Two Behavioral and Social Science courses

II. Diversity Courses (first 60 credits)

Diversity courses focus on the history, status, treatment, or accomplishments of women, minority groups and subcultures, non-western cultures, or concepts and implications of diversity. Some Diversity courses may also satisfy Distributive or Advanced Studies requirements.

III. Advanced Studies (first 60 credits)

Two courses outside the major requirements must be completed after the first 56 credits. These courses must be of the 300 or 400- level and may NOT include professional writing courses, courses used to satisfy Distributive Studies requirements, internships, practica, or other experiential learning courses.

GOING PLACES ARE YOU?

Steps to Registration:

1. You will receive a postcard mid-semester that will provide you with the date and time of your registration. Registration "appointments" are based on credit-level. In addition, the postcard will direct you to your college/department for further registration information.

2. Students should make advising appointments at least two weeks prior to your registration date. Also, any registration blocks (advising, financial, immunization, etc.) must be taken care of before you register.

3. Begin using the Schedule of Classes (available in print or on Testudo) to select the classes for which you want to register, including alternates should the course be full on the date of your registration. It may be helpful to use VENUS course scheduler and the SEATS website to obtain the most up-to-date course information. These services are both available on the Testudo Website.

Before you register for a class, find out a little bit about each professor... How much you like a class depends a lot on who your professor is."

James Pineda, Freshman Biology Major

4. If necessary, you should go to the appropriate departments to obtain special permission for any class requiring it.

5. Register! There are three registration methods:

1. Online at www.testudo.umd.edu
2. On the phone through the Maryland Automated Registration System (MARS) - (301) 403-0500
3. In-person through the Office of the Registrar in the Mitchell Building.

6. If you placed your name on the waitlist for a course, you must plan on "checking-in" to the waitlist everyday beginning with the first day of the next semester.

To cancel your registration: if you decide not to attend the University, contact the Office of the Registrar (information below). The deadline to cancel registration is by August 28, 2001. Please note that this date is before classes begin. Failure to cancel before this date will result in financial obligation to the University even if you do not attend any classes. Also, please note that cancellation of Dining and Residence Hall contracts is a separate process. See the sections on Dining Services and Resident Life to obtain contact information.

GOING PLACES, ARE YOU?

Grade Point Average

To calculate your GPA for one semester, use the following method:

Each grade is assigned a number:

A=4, B=3, C=2, D=1, F=0.

1. Multiply the grade you received in the class times the number of credits the class is worth. This total is called your "Quality Points" for the course.
2. Add the Quality Points of all your courses for the semester.
3. Divide your Total Quality Points by the total number of credits you took that semester.
4. The answer is your GPA for the semester.

To calculate your cumulative GPA, keep a running total of your Total Quality Points for every semester and divide this number by the total number of credits you have attempted.

Minimum and Maximum Numbers of Credits

You must register for 12 credits to be considered full-time. Students enrolled in less than 12 credits may run the risk of losing scholarships or loans. If you wish to register for over 19 credits, you must have the permission of the Dean of your college.

Changing Your Schedule

You can drop and add courses or change sections during the first 10 days of each semester without penalty. After this "Schedule Adjustment Period," you will receive a "W" (meaning that you "withdrew") on your transcript for any course you drop. You may only drop up to four credits after the Schedule Adjustment Period. The last day to withdrawal from a class is during the 10th week of the semester; see the Schedule of Classes for the specific date.

Transfer Credit Acceptance

The University will not accept transfer credits from a course in which you earned less than a C, unless the course was taken in a Maryland public institution.

In this case, a D can be considered for transfer.

The University will not accept more than 60 transfer credits from a 2-year college and no more than 90 credits from a 4-year college. A student's last 30 credits must be taken at UMCP.

Grading Options and Other Symbols

Regular (R): A, B, C, D, and F

Pass/Fail (P/F): Students may not take P/F classes until earning 30 credits. No more than 12 total credits may be taken P/F. All university, college, or major requirements must be taken for a grade.

Audit (A): Students do not receive a grade or credit, but are allowed to sit in on the class.

Satisfactory/Fail: See P/F; for internships

Withdraw (W)

Incomplete (I)

No Grade Reported (NGR)

Grade Reports

Grade information is available on Testudo and MARS through the Grade Inquiry menu. Grades are mailed by request only.

Appealing a Grade

If you feel your instructor has given an unfair grade, discuss the matter with him or her informally to try to resolve the problem. If you are unsuccessful, ask to meet with the departmental representative responsible for grading disputes.

"College is about much more than just grades. It's about finding yourself. Although staying focused on schoolwork is the key to surviving, you need to do activities that will help you discover who you are."

Ann Planeta, Sophomore Zoology Major

Majors can be changed at the college advising office of your desired major. If you are planning to change your major, you should contact an academic advisor for assistance. If you wish to enter a Limited Enrollment Program, you should inquire at the Advising Office of that major.

Undergraduate Classification & SWS

Freshman: 1-27 credit hours

Sophomore: 28-55 credit hours

Junior: 56-85 credit hours

Senior: 86+ credit hours

Course Requirements & SWS

Undergraduate students are eligible to register for courses numbered 000-499 depending on the level of credits earned. Check course listings and the Undergraduate Catalog for specific course requirements and restrictions.

000-099: Non-credit courses

100-199: Primarily introductory courses

200-299: Primarily sophomore courses

300-399: Primarily junior courses

400-499: Primarily senior courses

500-899: Graduate-level courses (by special permission only)

Waitlists

A waitlist is a list of students who are waiting to get into a closed course should a seat open. Students on the waitlist will get into the course in numerical order as space becomes available in the class. Students must have met any conditions for remaining on the waitlist, including "checking in" on Testudo or MARS everyday.

Diploma Application

You must apply for your degree by the end of the first 10 days of classes the semester in which you expect to complete your degree requirements. Diploma applications can be processed through Testudo, MARS, or by completing a graduation application at the Office of the Registrar.

Transcripts

Official transcripts can be requested for mailing on Testudo or acquired on the spot at the Office of the Registrar. A valid photo ID is required. Transcript requests cannot be processed if a debt is owed. Unofficial transcripts can be viewed via Testudo or printed using one of the MARS kiosks.

Identification & SWS

The University identification system is a photo identification card. This card may be used to checkout library materials, gain admission to most events on campus, and to board the Shuttle-UM. The photo card is also used for on-campus dining and for a campus declining balance program called Terrapin Express. You are issued a free photo ID card when you first enroll and will continue to use that card during your entire enrollment. The replacement fee for a lost or damaged card is $20. This fee is waived if you trade in your original damaged card.

If you attend an orientation session and register prior to July 7, 2001, you should receive a combination bill/schedule in late July. Those students who attend an orientation session and register after July 7, 2001 should receive a combination bill/schedule in early August. Those students who are billed for campus housing and a meal plan may receive an initial combination bill/schedule for these charges and a subsequent bill for tuition.

When is payment due?

Payment of tuition, fees, room, board and all associated fees is due according to the following timetable:

- August 3, 2001 – If you register prior to July 7, 2001
- August 31, 2001 – If you register between July 8 and August 3, 2001
- September 10, 2001 – If you register after August 3, 2001

Payment is due to the University by the above deadlines regardless of whether or not you receive a bill. Checks should be made payable to the University of Maryland and should include your student identification number on the front. We also accept Mastercard, Visa, and Discover. Payment can be made by credit card by mail, in person at the Cashier's Office in room 1115 of the Lee Building or by calling the MARS (Maryland Automated Registration System) line at (301) 403-0500.

What types of charges might I expect to see on my bill?

There are a variety of charges that may appear on your billing statement in addition to tuition, mandatory fees, special course fees, room, and board. Some of those fees include a charge for a parking permit, orientation, using the health center, library fines and delinquent parking tickets.

In addition to the initial combination bill/schedule, monthly billing statements for outstanding charges on your account are mailed to your permanent home address and due by the stated due date. The University cannot assume responsibility for the delivery of these statements and holds that it is your responsibility to pay account charges by the due date to avoid additional charges and/or penalties. You may obtain your balance by logging on to www.testudo.umd.edu. You may also obtain a print out or ask questions about your student account by visiting the Financial Service Center.

How do I change my address?

Since a great deal of university communication is sent through the mail and e-mail, it is imperative that you maintain an up-to-date address and email address. You can update your addresses on-line with the Registrar's Office by using Testudo. You can also update your addresses in-person at the Registrar's Office located in the Mitchell Building.

What do I do if I decide not to attend Maryland?

In the unfortunate instance that you decide not to attend Maryland, you must notify the Office of the Registrar in writing prior to the first day of classes to avoid any financial obligation to the university. If you have signed a contract with the Department of Resident Life for an on-campus room, you must notify this office separately. Cancellation of a room contract at anytime may result in a penalty. Please contact the Department of Resident Life directly for more information at (301) 314-5906. Failure to attend or make payment will not result in cancellation of fall semester charges or your financial obligation to the University of Maryland.

We realize that a college education is one of the most vital, enriching experiences of your life, as well as one of the most important investments. Accordingly, we have committed ourselves to helping you bridge the gap between your personal resources and the cost of attending school. If you should have any questions or want more information on billing, financial aid, or scholarships, please visit our web site at www.testudo.umd.edu/Financials or call (888) 313-2404 or (301) 314-9000.

No, complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form to determine your eligibility for financial aid. For priority consideration for all available aid, you should submit your FAFSA form each year by February 15.

1. Submit your Award Notification to the Financial Service Center via mail or fax.
2. After accepting any loans, complete and return Promissory Notes mailed to you. Promissory Notes for Stafford and PLUS Loans should be returned to your lender's guarantee agency; Perkin's Financial Service Center.
3. Complete an Online Entrance Interview at www.umd.edu/fin if you accepted Stafford Loans. These funds will not be disbursed without the completed interview.
4. Register for classes. Most grants and scholarships require full time (12 or more credits) enrollment. You should not drop below 12 credits without reviewing the enrollment requirements for your aid or discussing the potential aid reduction with a Financial Aid Counselor. Enrollment requirements are listed in the Financial Aid Award Guide and in the "Keeping Your Aid" section our web site.
5. Notify outside scholarship agencies of your decision to attend Maryland.

...and other financial options are available.

Terp Payment Plan

By enrolling in the Terp Payment Plan, your payments to the University can be spread over either eight or 10 monthly installments, thereby avoiding lump-sum payments. No interest accrues; only an annual enrollment fee is charged. Please contact the Financial Service Center for more information.

Federal PLUS Loan

The PLUS loan may be borrowed by parents of dependent, undergraduate students. Approval for the loan is based on credit history. The interest rate for this loan is capped at 9% and is reset July 1 of each year. Please contact the lender of your choice or the Financial Service Center for more information.

Alternative Student Loans

Alternative student loans are additional sources of funding provided through private sector educational loan programs. Approval of these loans is based on credit history. Please contact the lender of your choice or the Financial Service Center for more information.

to protect the freedom of speech, assembly, and movement of any individual or group.

NOTE: Descriptions of these policies are for general information only. Please refer to specific texts for official language. Modifications may be added throughout the year. Absence of any policy from this summary in no way lessens its force or restricts its range for application. Please contact the Office of Judicial Programs for additional information.

Describes the importance of the commitment to the principles of truth and academic honesty and ensures that the principle of academic honesty is upheld. It is designed so that special responsibility for upholding the principle of academic honesty lies with the students.

Forbids unauthorized possession, use, or distribution of alcoholic beverages on University property. Certain exceptions are specified. (Information subject to change pending legislation. Legal drinking age in the State of Maryland is 21 years.)

Restricts the hours and locations of use of certain forms of sound amplifying equipment, provides a procedure for the authorization of otherwise restricted uses of sound amplifying equipment, and locates responsibility for complaints with those using the equipment.

Regulates reservation of University facilities, advertising, cosponsorship, cancellation and postponement, and various other matters relating to student organization programs.

Establishes guidelines for demonstrations and picketing. Stipulates that the University will take steps necessary both to protect the rights of individuals or groups to demonstrate and Sets forth procedures for compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (Buckley Amendment) so as (1) to permit students to inspect their education records, (2) to limit disclosure to others of personally identifiable information from education records without students' prior written consent, and (3) to provide students the opportunity to seek correction of their educational records where appropriate.

Sets general standards for student conduct during examinations. They are applicable to all examinations given at the University of Maryland unless the faculty member administering the examination provides contrary instructions.

Prohibits hazing, which is defined by the National Interfraternity Conference as "any action taken or situation created, whether on or off the fraternity premises, to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule." Some violations of Section 9 of the Code of Student Conduct, violations of the Maryland State Law on Hazing, and any actions which fit each chapter's National Organization's policy on hazing are also considered hazing.

Prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, personal appearance, age, national origin, political affiliation, physical or mental disability, or on the basis of the exercise of rights secured by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. Establishes Office of Human Relations programs and other vehicles for encouraging the development of a positive and productive atmosphere of human relations on campus. Establishes enforcement procedures, a Human Relations Grievance Committee, and responsibilities of Officers.

Covers registration, permits, fees, violations, enforcement, fines, towing, impounding, appeals, car pool programs, special event parking, emergency parking, and a number of other areas. Notably the regulations provide that "the responsibility of finding an authorized parking space rests with the driver."

Defines standards for permissible displays, objects, or structures not designed to be continuously carried or held by a demonstrator or picketer so as simultaneously to protect freedom of expression and to prevent unreasonable threats to the health, security, safety, or mission of the campus.

Designed to provide a means for undergraduate students to seek review of final course grades alleged to be arbitrary and capricious.

Defines prohibited conduct in and around campus residence halls, buildings, and at Department of Resident Life sponsored activities, in addition to that which falls under the Resident Halls Agreement, Code of Student Conduct, and federal, state and local laws. The rules also specify standard sanctions for the rule violations, and provide for an adjudication process.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Prohibits sexual harassment by University faculty, staff, and students as a matter of campus policy and possibly as a matter of criminal and civil law of the State of Maryland and the United States.

Defines sexual harassment and provides both formal and informal procedure for considering complaints. In addition, the policy notifies all members of the campus community that sexual relationships that occur in the context of educational or employment supervision and evaluation are generally deemed very unwise because they present serious ethical concerns.

Prohibits smoking in indoor locations at the University of Maryland. Contains guidelines for implementation, compliance, and review.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

Defines prohibited conduct, standards of due process, sanctions, and hearing procedures for students charged with specific acts of misconduct.

SEXUAL ASSAULT POLICY

Sexual assault is a terrifying violation of a person's right to control his or her own body and takes away the ability to make a sexual choice. Because sexual assault is an act of domination that is often violent, being sexually assaulted means that the person has been assaulted both physically and psychologically. It produces extreme and conflicting feelings in the survivor, among which are fear, shame, anger, and depression. Anyone can be sexually assaulted; everyone will need time in which to recover.

This University is committed to educating the campus community about the nature and consequences of sexual assault. Although primary focus is on prevention, the University has programs in place to assist sexual assault survivors, to provide information about and referrals to the criminal justice system, and to adjudicate cases in accordance with the Code of Student Conduct and other University administrative processes as appropriate.

Sexual assault is a serious offense and the standard sanction for any sexual assault, including acquaintance rape, is expulsion and/or termination of employment.

Defines student organizations, responsibilities of officers, and registration, and establishes types of registration processes. Also, certain privileges of registered student organizations in good standing, sanctions that may result from registration and review, and guidelines for constitutions. (For more information, contact the Office of Campus Programs.)

Sets forth "reasonable student expectations" regarding faculty and academic units; provides a means for presenting, examining, and finally, disposing of complaints by undergraduate students who believe these expectations have been violated. Redress may be sought under this procedure without fear of reprisal or discrimination.

The University of Maryland is an equal opportunity institution with respect to both education and employment. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or handicap in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in its programs and activities as required by federal law (Title VI, Title IX, Section 504) and state regulations.

provide an organizational structure under which to maintain, coordinate, provide leadership, development and supervision for campus tutoring programs. Students needing tutoring should first contact their professors or the graduate teaching assistants assigned to courses. They should inquire also at the department office to see if the department sponsors any tutoring services. Many campus clubs, organizations, and honors societies also offer tutoring. For more information students can check with the Learning Assistance Center, University Honors Program, and the Office of Multi-Ethnic Student Education in the Stamp Student Union. AAP tutoring provides supplemental assistance for University of Maryland students by reinforcing the main ideas presented in CORE class lectures and reading assignments. Additionally, tutorials provide students with an opportunity to enhance their preparation for and performance in course discussion, papers, quizzes, and exams.

To request a tutor come to Room 3215B in J.M. Patterson Building and ask the Tutorial Coordinator for the form to request the services of a tutor. All information and data will be kept confidential. You can request tutoring for all lower (100-200) level courses. In some cases you can request a tutor for 300 and 400 level courses, subject to availability of tutors. No fees or payments are due for requesting tutoring; the Tutorial Services are FREE!!!

To obtain exams from past classes come to Room 3215 J.M. Patterson Building and ask for past exam question papers. There is an extensive collection of past exam papers that are available to students to help prepare for examinations. The STAR Center at the Stamp Union also has an extensive collection of examination papers on different subjects/courses.

To apply to become a tutor, you must have been a student on this campus for at least a semester and have earned a grade of "B" or better in the course(s) you want to tutor. Come to Room 3215 in J.M. Patterson Building to pick up an application form.

offers a variety of services and programs to enhance the academic experience of undergraduate multi-ethnic students at the University of Maryland. As an academic support unit, OMSE collaborates with several other campus offices and college programs to provide a quality university experience for our diverse population. OMSE provides academic support to students through

Courses such as

EDCP-108N: A one-credit course geared toward developing behaviors that will enhance students' academic success;

EDCP-312, a three-credit Peer Counseling course that prepares upper level students to function as peer helpers.

The WAM-OWL computer lab, open to students, faculty, and staff at UMCP

Tutoring assistance for all students in subjects such as math., chemistry, physics, economics and business.

The Mentoring Program pairs incoming multi-ethnic students with a faculty, staff, graduate, or upper-level undergraduate student to help new students develop strategies for success.

a division of the University of Maryland's Counseling Center, provides a variety of services to help students "work smarter, not harder!" As you enter the University, you may realize that the learning strategies you used in high school are not adequate for college study. The staff of trained educational counselors work with students to help identify areas of strength and need so that a firm academic foundation is developed.

Work individually with a counselor on math, English, reading, and general study skills;

Attend a variety of workshops on academic survival strategies such as time management, note taking, and textbook reading;

Work with our learning disability specialist to help develop appropriate classroom accommodations and strategies.

We provide a variety of test-preparation workshops for students who are seeking admission to the Colleges of Education and Journalism.

Our Returning Students Program helps students aged 25 and older who are returning to higher education after a break in their formal schooling. A variety of workshops and social events help returning students make the transition back to higher education.

The College Bound Program helps high school students develop skills and habits required for college success.

In addition to individual services and workshops, LAS offers a variety of one-credit EDCP 108 courses:

EDCP 108B – Concepts and Skills: Reading and Study Skills

EDCP 108G – Concepts and Skills: The Transfer Student in the University

EDCP 108K – Concepts and Skills: Learning Disabilities

EDCP 108L – Concepts and Skills: Listening and note taking skills

EDCP 108M – Concepts and Skills: Math Study Skills and Building Confidence

EDCP 108R – Concepts and Skills: Returning Students

EDCP 108X – Concepts and Skills: International Students

All LAS Services (except for The College Bound Program) are free for currently enrolled UMCP students.

include seven libraries on the College Park campus with a combined collection of over 2.7 million volumes and approximately 30,000 serial titles that support educational and research endeavors. Access to many of these materials is facilitated through using VICTORWeb, the online catalog of the University System of Maryland. For library hours, please contact the library at (301) 405-0800.

The Library staff employs its training and experience in building collections and providing services to the Maryland community. All students, faculty, and staff of the University of Maryland may borrow materials from any Maryland library.

McKeldin Library is the main campus library. It houses the main collections in life sciences, business, social sciences and humanities, as well as Government Documents/Maps and the East Asia Collection. Also located here are The Photocopy Center, Periodicals, Interlibrary Loan, Reserves, Services for Persons with Disabilities and MITH (Maryland Institute for Technology in the Humanities). For more information on McKeldin Library, look online at www.lib.umd.edu/UMCP/MCK/mckeldin.html.

Hornbake Library houses Special Collections, Nonprint Media Services, the Library of American Broadcasting, National Public Broadcasting Archives and a WAM (Workstations at Maryland) Computer Lab. Information for Hornbake Library can be found online at www.lib.umd.edu/UMCP/HBK/hornbake.html.

VICTORWeb is the online catalog of the University System of Maryland. You can use the online catalog to search for books, nonprint and other research materials owned by the University of Maryland Libraries. Access to VICTORWeb is found from the Library home page.

Borrowing Materials

Students must present a student ID card to borrow items and reserve materials from any campus library. More details about borrowing materials can be found at www.lib.umd.edu/UMCP/PUBSERV/circ_all.html.

Group and quiet study areas are located throughout the UM Libraries and are available on a first-come, first-served basis. See the floor plans in each library for study space locations. Only students with a valid ID card may gain entrance to late night study rooms (between 11:00 P.M. and 8:00 A.M.) in McKeldin Library.

Students at Maryland are networked to the world. The Office of Information Technology (OIT) provides computing and telecommunications resources and services for the university community. All residence halls are wired, as are classrooms and offices.

More than 1,000 fully networked computers (PC, MAC, UNIX) are located in 32 Open Workstation Labs (OWL) across the University. Selected labs are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. General productivity and course specific software are available as well as full Internet access (www.oit.umd.edu/wheretogo). Payment for printing in many labs is handled by online debiting of special print accounts. In order to establish a pay-for-print account, you must have a Terrapin Express account, which is covered in another section of this guide (www.helpdesk.umd.edu/tpcr).

For access to the University's computing resources, you should request a WAM (Workstations at Maryland) computer account for e-mail and access to many UM-only resources, including dial-up access to the University network and computer labs. WAM accounts include space to build your personal website (www.helpdesk.umd.edu).

Non-credit computer training on the use of University IT resources and software applications is offered for $10. Topics covered range from web development to personal productivity software. Free classes are offered on WebCT, the University's course management tool used by many faculty (www.umd.edu/pt).

The OIT Help Desk, located in Computer and Space Sciences room I400, has experts who answer general IT questions and assist in resolving specific IT problems. They provide walk-in, telephone, web, and e-mail service. The Help Desk Virus Notification Program includes free computer virus protection software for students (www.helpdesk.umd.edu/virus). Call (301) 405-1500, visit or send e-mail to for more information.

Guidelines for the acceptable use of computing resources are posted at www.umd.edu/ang. Policies and regulations of the University apply to all University information technology resources. The Project NEThics office ensures responsible use of University computing resources through policy enforcement and user education designed to inform community members about the legal and ethical implications of computer use (www.umd.edu/NEThics).

Need a part-time job? Many students join the OIT team and learn while they earn. You can work side-by-side with experienced professionals to enhance the ways members of the University community teach, learn, and work. Visit www.oit.umd.edu/employment for more information about our part-time student opportunities.

Go to college, study a little or a lot, have fun, get a job—often college is perceived as simply a step in a larger process. If only it were that simple. Some of the best and brightest college students can waltz through their college years and wind up with a great job after graduation. Most of us, however, must give some thought and planning to our college years. The Career Center can help you answer questions like "what should I major in?" and "what careers are best for me?" Identifying and exploring your interests and skills are the first steps in making good career decisions. Here are some other resources you will find at the Career Center to assist you in planning your future:

1. Career & Employment Resource Room:

The Resource Room contains an extensive collection of books and videos, computer-assisted career exploration, job listings for part-time, internship, and full-time opportunities, computers with an Internet connection, and employer information.

2. Career Assistance:

Career Center staff assist students in identifying careers and majors suited to their interests, values, and skills; developing job search skills, and preparing for graduate school or a career change. Walk-in Assistance (15-minute consultation) is available on a daily basis in the Resource Room; also available are individual appointments with professional staff.

3. Employer-in-Residence:

Through the Employer-in-Residence Program, students receive advice on resumes, cover letters, and interviewing concerns. You can also participate in mock interviews with the option of video taped review of the session. Employers represent organizations that typically use Career Center services for their employment needs. An appointment is necessary.

4. Terp Network:

This online system available through the Career Center's web site connects students and alumni with parents of Maryland students or with other UM alumni who can offer advice and mentoring in a given career field of interest.

5. Credentials Service:

Every student can establish a permanent, professional file that holds letters of recommendation and background information to support applications for employment and graduate professional schools.

6. TERP Online (The Employment Registration Program) For fast and comprehensive access to employment opportunities, the Career Center recommends that every student register for TERP Online. TERP Online provides students access to "Job Listings," "On-Campus Interviewing," and "Resume Referral." To register, attend a TERP Online workshop scheduled throughout the fall and spring semesters. For a current listing of workshops, see the "What's Happening Now?" section of the Career Center website.

7. Job Listings: Current job listings-including part-time, internship, graduate assistantship, and full-time positions are accessible 24 hours a day via TERP Online and in the Resource Room during Career Center hours. Additional jobs are posted on the bulletin boards outside the center. Students seeking short-term part-time jobs should consider our Quick Bucks e-mail service.

8. On-Campus Interviewing: On-campus interviewing offers students the opportunity to interview on campus with a variety of employers for part-time, internship, or full-time positions. To participate in "On-Campus Interviewing," students must register for "TERP Online." "On-Campus Interviewing" is also available to recent alumni for one semester after graduation.

9. Resume Referral: This resume database allows students and alumni to present their qualifications to employers who are not interviewing on campus. By registering for TERP online, the student joins a pool of candidates accessible to employers requesting applicants with specific skills or backgrounds to fill their current job openings. Employers review the resumes and then contract qualified candidates to arrange office interviews or request additional information.

10. Academic Courses: EDCP 108D-Career Planning and Decision-Making is a course that helps students identify career interests, skills, and values and how they relate to UMCP majors. UNIV 099 Internship Seminar is designed to complement students' supervised work experiences. Topics include exploring career options, developing professional work skills, and examining the relationship between internship and academic coursework. Good academic standing, submission of transcript, internship description, and approval of instructor are required.

You can almost anywhere your imagination can take you! Study Abroad is an exciting experience that can bring your education to life. Semester, year, summer, and winter programs are available, as are exchange and internship programs.

Studying abroad can enhance your academic career regardless of major or career plans. The experience allows you to use the world to gain a new understanding of your discipline and to be exposed to a different culture.

Most students study abroad their junior year, although this does not have to be the case. Planning early ensures that you meet academic requirements and have time to explore program and scholarship options. Students should meet with both a Study Abroad advisor and an academic advisor to carefully plan their program. Study Abroad application deadlines are usually one semester prior to the beginning of the program, although it is suggested that you begin to research programs even earlier.

The cost of studying abroad varies from program to program. Financial aid and scholarships can frequently be applied to study abroad program fees. Study Abroad Scholarships are also available for eligible students.

is a resource the everyone can take advantage of. Many students encounter a variety of personal, social, career, and academic issues that call for assistance beyond the advice received from friends and family. Fortunately, the Counseling Center provides free and confidential services to all University of Maryland students.

The Counseling Center offers a variety of services and programs designed to help you achieve your goals and overcome barriers to your learning and development. Among the services available are personal and social counseling, career counseling, academic skills counseling, workshops and group counseling, testing services, support for students with disabilities, returning students programs, research services and consultation and evaluation for parents and children.

The Counseling Center is open Monday-Thursday from 8:30 AM - 9:00 PM and Friday from 8:30 AM - 9:00 PM. There are walk-in services available for minority students each weekday from 3:00 PM - 4:00 PM (no appointment is necessary).

The University Police Department is an internationally accredited, full-service, legislated police agency that serves the myriad needs of the students, faculty, staff, and visitors within its jurisdiction. Each of its approximately 75 sworn officers is empowered by state law to make arrests, investigate crimes, and carry firearms. The property that constitutes the College Park campus is, by law, the primary jurisdiction of the University Police. Additionally, a cooperative agreement exists with the Prince George's County Police to distribute enforcement authority to University Police in areas adjacent to the campus in the City of College Park and in Adelphi. The two police agencies have a mutual working relationship sharing criminal activity information and providing assistance and expertise to each other as needed.

Police Services: The University Police Department provides police services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

- Emergency response to crimes in progress and to life threatening incidents (Dial 911);
- Foot patrol, patrol with marked and unmarked police cars, motorcycles, and bicycles;
- Crime and incident reporting, which provides data to other campus organizations, the State of Maryland, and the FBI;
- Escorts by uniformed police officers.

The Police Auxiliary of the department (301-405-5752) employs approximately 100 Student Police Aides (SPAs). SPAs are non-sworn, unarmed student employees who work part-time for the department. They are provided training and equipment, and act as eyes and ears of the Department. They perform a variety of tasks including: special event security and contract security; foot and bicycle patrols; monitoring the video camera system; marked patrol of Parking Garages; and escorts anywhere on campus.

Crime Prevention: A major function of the University Police is to provide crime prevention services to students, faculty, and staff who live and work within our community. Some of these programs include:

- Alcohol and other Drug Education
- Timely Warning Notices regarding crimes which may present a threat to the campus community
- Building and Office Security Surveys
- Personal Security Presentations
- Public Information
- Rape Aggression Defense (RAD)
- Sexual Assault Awareness
- Watch Your CAR (WYCAR) Vehicle Theft Prevention
- Bicycle Registration

Blue Light PERT Phones are emergency phones that provide a direct line to the University Police throughout the campus both inside and outside many academic buildings and residence halls. These phones are either yellow or encased within a blue cylindrical column and are marked "Emergency." Individuals may contact police directly and without charge by activating the phone. This notifies an emergency police dispatcher, via computer, of the caller's exact location.

911 Interface with Campus Pay

Phones: Callers wishing to contact the University Police from a campus pay phone must dial 911, advise the emergency operator that they are at the University of Maryland, and ask to have the call forwarded directly to University Police Headquarters. The combination of these two emergency telephone systems provides the community with more than 350 emergency telephones in public areas throughout the campus.

Video Camera System: To enhance proactive police patrols on campus, video cameras have been installed in 25 high-traffic exterior public areas. The cameras record 24-hours a day, 7 days a week. Student Police Aides monitor them specific hours throughout the day and night.

Protecting Yourself from Assault: There are no guarantees against becoming a victim. The following are suggestions that may help to reduce the opportunity.

1. Know your environment—including the location of Emergency Phones, lighted areas, and where you can go for help.
2. Reduce time you spend alone. Walk with a friend. Lock the door to the room you are in. Lock your car at all times. Walk in well-lighted areas.
3. Plan what you will do if confronted by a potential assailant. Will you scream, run, fight, or try to gain his/her confidence while waiting for the opportunity to escape safely? Decide immediately who can help you. Surrender money without resistance when asked for it.
4. Work together for a safer campus. Look out for each other. Report suspicious activity to the Police. Share information with others. Work with each other to develop a response plan.
5. Plan your walk. Make use of video monitored areas.

Protecting your property: Theft is the crime most often reported on campus, occurring most often when property is left unattended or unsecured. The following are some steps you can take to help protect your property:

1. Keep it secure. Lock it away. Ask a friend to hold it. Hold it in your hands. Lock it in a car trunk. Leave it at home.
2. Mark your property. Personalize the property, by painting it, or engraving your driver's license number and state on it.

Reporting Crimes:

1. Report all crimes to University Police. Provide all details about crime to Police. Keep the Police updated about crimes, providing additional information as you learn of it. Warn others of problem areas. Stay on the phone line with police until told it is okay to hang up.
2. Report suspicious activities. Any activity to which you give a second thought is suspicious. Suspicious activities are often criminal acts.

Have you ever wondered: "What happens if I get sick while I am at the University of Maryland?" or "Where can I go to find out more information on college health issues?" or "Can my parents look at my medical records?" What ever your question may be, the University Health Center has the answer for you!

Location, Hours, and Basic Costs. The University Health Center (UHC) is conveniently located across the street from the Stamp Student Union, on Campus Drive. It is open Monday through Friday from 8 AM. to 10 PM., and weekends, 9 AM to 5 PM during spring and fall semesters. Hours change during winter and summer semesters and holidays. If you need to come to the UHC, it is best to make an appointment by calling (301) 314-8184. Making an appointment reduces your waiting time. There is also a Walk-In and Urgent Care Clinic available. A $10 co-pay is required for most visits, if you have the MAMSI Student Health Insurance, the co-pay is waived.

Is confidentiality important to you?

All communication between you and your clinician are strictly confidential. A confidential medical record is maintained for every patient who receives care at the UHC. Information is released only with your written permission, upon a court ordered subpoena, or in a life-threatening situation. If you are over 18, information cannot be released to your parents without your permission.

The UHC offers many services including, but not limited to: Urgent and Primary Care, Walk-In Clinic, Sports Medicine, Physical Therapy, Massage Therapy, Acupuncture, Health Education, Dental Health, Pharmacy, Laboratory, Radiology, Women's Health, Mental Health, Substance Abuse Counseling, and programming.

There is a fee for many of these services, so it is always best to ask what you will be charged for during your visit. Most charges are billed to your student account, but you can also pay for your visit at the UHC with cash, Visa, or MasterCard.

The UHC is a nationally accredited source of student health care. It is also a great source for comprehensive health care, staffed by: Physicians, Physician's Assistants, Licensed and Registered Nurses, Nurse Practitioners, Health Educators, Licensed Massage Therapists, Licensed Acupuncturists, Registered Dietitians, Physical Therapists, Dentists and Dental Hygienists, and Mental Health Professionals.

Are you interested in nutrition, stress management, massage, or just a place to study?

The Center for Health and Wellbeing (CHWB) at the Campus Recreation Center is just the place for you. The CHWB programs are interesting, interactive, and free (unless otherwise noted). Call the Center at (301) 314-1280 or visit the UHC web site for more information.

houses over 8,000

students on campus in 34 residence halls. Students who live in on-campus residence halls are provided with excellent opportunities to participate in a well-rounded college experience. Some activities include participating in clubs and campus organizations and developing stronger relationships with peers as well as faculty members.

Housing is guaranteed for all admitted first-time first-year students who confirm their enrollment and submit their housing request by the May 1st deadline. After compliant first-time freshmen and eligible returning students have been assigned, remaining housing will be made available to later first-year student applicants as well as transfer students. Students will be advised of the likelihood of receiving on-campus housing beginning May 15, 2001.

Student rooms vary slightly from room to room. However, the majority of students who live on-campus are housed in doubles. On occasion, a first-time first-year student might be assigned to one of the 300 triple or quad rooms, which are occupied by three or four students, respectively. For each student, the university provides a twin bed, a dresser, and a desk with chair. In addition to the furniture, each student is also supplied with a private phone line, individual cable and personal high-speed Internet access. Each room contains a smoke detector, closet, and window blinds. The student is responsible for bringing linens, sheets, and towels. Laundry rooms are located in each community.

Roommates for new students are assigned according to the preferences they indicate on the On-Campus Housing and Meals Agreement. Students are assigned and their housing preferences are considered in the order that the Department of Resident Life receives the requests. Assignments are made on a first-come, first-serve basis contingent upon housing availability. Mutual roommate requests received by June 30 are honored based on space availability.

The Resident Assistant (RA) is the staff member with whom you will have the most immediate contact. As trained undergraduate students, RAs bring many skills and experiences to their jobs and are eager to help in any way they can. For assistance with University services or offices, academic or personal concerns, you should ask your RA. If your RA cannot help answer the question, most certainly he or she will refer you to someone who in conjunction with Community Service, offers a comprehensive range of services, programs, and information for commuter students.

The Housing Office is run by trained staff who assist with housing searches, transportation, and other commuter concerns. Housing seekers can conduct an on-line search through our HousingLink. Area maps, apartment directories, model leases, and tenant-landlord rights and responsibilities are available.

Commuter Affairs and Community Service provides a wide array of transportation services and information including directions to all major airports, schedules for all Shuttle-UM routes, Metrobuses, Metrorail, Amtrak, and MARC. If you are driving to campus, take advantage of the "Preferred Parking Program." Form a carpool of 3 or more students, faculty, or staff to park in conveniently located lots on campus. To register for the "Preferred Parking Program," call the Department of Campus Parking at (301) 314-PARK.

Programs are designed to help connect commuter students to campus involvement opportunities and help them to learn about campus life:

"Good Morning, Commuters!" is a weekly program featuring free coffee, tea, and doughnuts, information about campus services and activities, and a place to meet other commuters. Join other commuters every Wednesday from 7:30 AM - 9:30 PM in the Stamp Student Union Atrium starting August 29.

Commuter Survival Day is a one-day orientation program for incoming commuter students. If you are interested in meeting more commuter students, getting tips for academic success, and learning more about University of Maryland resources and involvement opportunities, you are invited to participate in Commuter Survival Day on Friday, August 26.

The S.H.O.W. (Students Helping, Orienting, and Welcoming) Program helps students settle in to Maryland by matching incoming commuter students with experienced commuters.

New Commuter Student Gathering is an informal gathering of commuter students prior to the New Student Welcome program. The New Student Gathering occurs a few days before the start of classes and is scheduled for Tuesday, August 28.

Commuter Leadership Team provides commuter students with an opportunity to acquire leadership skills while assisting incoming commuters in their transition to college life.

Van Munching Hall was named after Leo Van Munching, the sole importer of Heineken and Amstel beer. He graduated from Maryland and donated $10 million to construct the building. It houses the Business program, which is ranked in the national top 25 by US News and World Report.

is responsible for managing and maintaining more than 16,000 parking spaces on campus. If you want to park on campus in one of these spaces, you must either register for a parking permit, park at paid meters or park in a cashier-attended lot.

Parking permits are needed if you plan to park on campus. Each academic year, if eligible, you must register for a parking permit. All commuter students may register for a parking permit.

First-Year Students (0-27 credits) who are campus resident students may not register for a parking permit. They should not plan to bring a vehicle to campus.

Sophomore (27-55 credits) campus residents may apply for a parking permit through MARS. A permit will only be issued if space is available.

For all other students, parking lot selection options are determined by your credit-level, your student status as a resident or commuter, and space availability.

The cost of permits may be adjusted each year, and the rates vary due to the type of permit requested and status of the student. The most convenient and recommended method of registration for eligible students is to call MARS (Maryland Automated Registration System) at (301) 403-0500. MARS is generally available April through August. If you do not register through MARS, contact the Department of Campus Parking (DCP) for dates and times of walk-in registration. Permit fees will be charged to your student account when you register on MARS or during peak periods of walk-in registration. At other times you may pay using cash, check, or credit card. Please refer to the Schedule of Classes for detailed parking registration information.

Visitors are encouraged to park in a cashier-attended facility and pay the prevailing rate. If your visitors choose to park in a parking lot, they should observe the lot restrictions, which are shown on the signs at the entrance to each parking lot, prior to parking their vehicle. The signs state when a lot is reserved for permit holders only. Any vehicles parked in violation of posted signage are subject to ticketing. Your visitors may also park at a paid meter.

The Motor Assistance Vehicle (MAV) is a free service offered to any individual parking on campus experiencing automobile difficulties including jump starts, lockouts, tire changes, inflations, and gas transports. Call (301) 314-4CAR for assistance. Hours of operation vary.

What if I get a parking ticket? In order for the DCP to assist with providing the optimum availability of spaces and to regulate the safe use of campus parking facilities, parking enforcement is necessary. Due to the limited number of parking spaces on campus, the enforcement of regulations is important. If a vehicle you are driving has been issued a parking violation notice (ticket), you have two options available:

You can either pay the fine or request a review of the ticket. No matter which option you select, you must do it within 15 days of the issuance date. Tickets not paid or filed for review within this time are subject to an additional late fee AND your right to appeal the ticket is waived. If you would like to request a review of a parking violation notice please read the information on the ticket and complete one of the two options available.

ShuttleUM is a free bus service provided to all University of Maryland students, faculty, and staff. ShuttleUM's 140 student employees and seven professional staff provide service to over one million passengers annually on 13 routes. The ShuttleUM fleet consists of 37 vehicles ranging in size from 15-passenger vans to 90-passenger transit buses. At ShuttleUM, student staff serves as managers, dispatchers, trainers, maintenance assistants, and administrative staff, including Marketing Coordinator, Payroll Specialist, Graphics Specialist, Maintenance Parts Coordinator, and Administrative Assistant. ShuttleUM has been recognized as the safest system in North America, compared with similar systems. ShuttleUM was presented with the Neil E. Goldschmidt Silver Safety Award, received a Certificate of Achievement for excellence in safety from the American Public Transportation Association, and also received a Certificate of Improvement in safety from the American Public Transportation Association.

ShuttleUM operates commuter service Monday through Thursday from 6:45 AM - 10:15 PM and on Friday from 6:45 AM - 7:15 PM. Buses run every 15 to 60 minutes to surrounding areas. Commuter service routes operate during the fall and spring semesters when classes are in session. Limited commuter service is also provided during the summer. Passengers need only a valid University ID to ride Shuttle-UM commuter service routes. ShuttleUM provides year-round service to the College Park Metro Station except on University holidays. Brochures and routes are available upon request.

ShuttleUM evening security service routes serve the entire campus and immediate vicinity, including the College Park Metro Station, Stamp Student Union, University College, downtown College Park, and all campus residence halls. No University ID is required to board any evening security service route. The evening security service routes operate 7 days a week during the fall and spring semesters when classes are in session. Limited service is provided during the summer sessions. Service begins at 5:30 PM and ends at 7:30 AM during the fall and spring semesters, and begins at 7:00 PM and ends at 1:30 AM during the summer sessions. For routes please see the Shuttle-UM website.

Call-A-Ride is a curb-to-curb security service for areas of campus not served by the fixed route buses or for service after the fixed route buses have ceased operating. Call-A-Ride serves the entire campus in addition to all other locations served by the fixed route evening security service buses. Call Shuttle-UM at (301) 314-CALL to request Call-A-Ride service.

Weekend service is provided to the College Park Metro Station from 12:00 PM until 8:00 PM during the fall and spring semesters only. At this time, weekend service on all other commuter routes is not provided. A University ID is not required to ride the weekend College Park Metro Station route. Please see the above section, "Evening Security Service Routes," for other services that operate on the weekends.

Paratransit provides on-campus rides to students, faculty, and staff with special mobility needs. Paratransit is available Monday through Friday, 7:30 AM to 5:30 PM, when classes are in session during the fall, spring, and summer semesters. Call-A-Ride accommodates passengers before and after the Paratransit service hours. People with permanent disabilities register for this service through the Office of Disability Support Services (301) 314-7682 or TTY (301) 314-7683. People with temporary disabilities, such as broken legs or sprained ankles, must register at the Health Center (301) 314-8180. For more information, contact the Paratransit Manager at (301) 314-7260.

Charter Service is available to all University departments, agencies, or student organizations. Groups planning trips to Washington, D.C., most of Maryland, or parts of Northern Virginia may request charter service. For more information, contact the Charter Manager at (301) 314-7271 or via e-mail at charterum@accmail.umd.edu. Brochures are available upon request.

Through Shuttle-UM Public Service Announcements Initiative, all members of the University of Maryland Community may announce events or distribute information about their service, department, or student group for free. With a daily ridership of over 6,800 passengers, displaying your flyers on Shuttle-UM buses is a great way to effectively communicate with Shuttle-UM passengers. For more information, contact the Marketing Coordinator at (301) 314-7270 or via e-mail at sum_marketing@accmail.umd.edu.

Interested in joining our team? Shuttle-UM is entirely student-operated, and is one of the highest paying student employers on campus. To obtain information about student employment at Shuttle-UM, contact the Administrative Coordinator at (301) 314-7269 or via e-mail at shuttle@accmail.umd.edu.

If you are looking to stay fit and reduce stress, has the programs for you! Recreation facilities are located in both the Campus Recreation Center and the North Gym on North Campus, as well as in the Armory and in Ritchie Coliseum next to Fraternity Row. These facilities remain open from early in the morning until late in the evening. Check out the website or stop by for more specific hours.

Informal recreation facilities provide an atmosphere for students who prefer to exercise at their own leisure.

Court sports: You can play basketball, badminton, handball, racquetball, squash, table tennis, volleyball, or wallyball in the Campus Recreation Center or the Armory.

Weight training/Fitness: The CRC, Ritchie Coliseum, and North Gym fitness centers and weight rooms house a variety of Cybex variable-resistance weight training machines, free weights, and cardiovascular training equipment.

Swimming: The indoor and outdoor campus pools are located in the CRC.

Tennis: Lighted courts are available from early April through late October.

Court Reservation and Equipment Check-out Services: Courts may be reserved for racquet sports. Equipment may be checked out in the CRC.

Fitness Programs offer a variety of aerobics and water exercise activities for students at all fitness levels. Low impact, step, cardio-boxing, spinning, sport conditioning, and water aerobic sessions are offered throughout the week at different times and locations. You can purchase an Aerobic Express Card for $25 to go to as many classes as you would like for the entire semester.

Outdoor recreation is ideal for the University of Maryland setting. Whether you enjoy mountain biking on a single-track, running rapids, or strolling along the river, the Outdoor Recreation Center (ORC) has something for you! The ORC's trained staff will help you enjoy many different outdoor activities on your own, or as part of a planned outdoor recreation trip. The ORC also has an extensive resource center with hundreds of books, maps, and brochures for trip planning. In addition, the ORC has a large selection of outdoor equipment available for rental as well as a bike shop. A new climbing wall and adventure course were added in the spring of 2001 as well.

Guests are welcome at Campus Recreation facilities, as long as a currently enrolled student or CRS member sponsors the guest. A one-day guest pass costs five dollars and can be used in any CRS facility.

For information on playing intramural sports or club sports, as well as employment opportunities with Campus Recreation Services, please refer to the section of this Guide entitled "Getting Involved."

would like to welcome you to the University of Maryland, where dining options on campus are almost as diverse as your own craving!

The University of Maryland has one of the most unique college food services in the country. Our innovative meal plan and eye-catching dining rooms have attracted national attention. Many schools look to the University of Maryland at College Park as an example of "state of the art" campus dining. We have received many awards from professional organizations, peer institutions, and our customers. This year, students voting in the annual Diamondback Reader's Choice Awards chose Dining Services as the "Best Coffee Shop," "Best Restaurant for Fine Dining," "Runner Up, Best Bakery," and "Runner Up, Best Place to Take Your Parents."

Everyday, we serve over 10,000 meals to our faculty, staff, and student customers—from a simple cup of coffee to an elegant reception. Our guests can dine over 300 times in our dining rooms and never eat the same thing twice. Dining Services prides itself on using only high quality products that meet our guests' approval. The Campus Animal Sciences Department produces our award-winning ice cream, and all baked goods are prepared daily in our campus bakery.

Dining Options

The Meal Plans - The declining balance meal plan allows students to spend points the way they choose, rather than be allotted a certain number of meals per week. The plan, designed by Maryland students, allows variety and increased flexibility. The Meal Plan Agreement is part of the Housing agreement. Students residing on-campus are required to participate in a meal plan and may choose between the Campus Point Plan or the Light or Plus Option.

Commuter Dining - Commuter students do not have to be on a meal plan to eat in the dining halls on campus. Dining halls, restaurants and eateries are located in all areas of campus and are open hours to fit anyone's dining schedule. All Dining Services' locations accept cash and most take credit cards. For a complete list of locations and descriptions, including hours of operation, menus and payment methods, please visit the website at www.dining.umd.edu.

2000-2001 Fees (1)

Plan		Facilities Fee (2)	Resident Points (3)	Red Express (4)
Campus Plan	$1364.00	$249.00	$933.00	$182.00
Light Option	$1264.00	$249.00	$1045.00	None
Plus Option	$1464.00	$249.00	$933.00	$282.00

1. These prices are for the 2000-2001 school year and are subject to change. Prices for the 2001-2002 school year may be accessed from the website (www.dining.umd.edu) after June 15, 2001.

2. The facilities fee is a charge mandated by the University to be set aside for construction, facilities renewal, and a fund to keep the buildings structurally sound.

3. The Resident Points are to be spent by students in the South Campus Dining Hall, The Diner, North Woods, and Adele's Restaurant (for dinner).

4. The Red Express option was designed to allow students more flexibility with some of their points. Students may use the Red Express Points in the South Campus Dining Hall, The Diner, North Woods, and Adele's, as well as selected convenience stores and various dining locations on campus.

..., the latest advance in the University's quest to make campus life a little easier, is a prepaid debit account that can be used to purchase and pay for services at locations all around campus. It is convenient, secure, and simple.

Convenience: With Terrapin Express, you will have purchasing power all over campus without cash, checks or credit cards. Your Terrapin Express account will be encoded on the back of your student ID card.

Secure: If your student ID card is lost or stolen, the account can be frozen immediately just by calling the Terrapin Express Contract Office. Plus, Terrapin Express is a prepaid debit card, so you will not be faced with a big bill to pay at the end of the month.

Simple: You may open a Terrapin Express account with a minimum of $20.00. There is no fee for setting up the account. Money can be applied to the Terrapin Express account using check, cash, or VISA, MasterCard, American Express, Discover, or Diners Club card.

It is easy to open a Terrapin Express account. Stop by the Terrapin Express Contract Office in South Campus Dining Hall. Your account will be activated instantly; there's no waiting for clearance before the first use. For your convenience, you may print out a Terrapin Express application at www.dining.umd.edu.

Once your account is opened, you can always add more money with cash, check, or charge cards.

The Union has been undergoing some major construction lately! B.U.M.P. AHEAD is the name of the project, which is intended to create a "Better Union for More People." The long-term commitment is a Union that will continue to serve as the "living room" of the campus, with the amenities that befit a facility entering the new millennium. Begun in June of 1999, the project is expected to last three years.

In the Union, you can do many things! You are likely to attend many meetings or functions in the Union's multipurpose space. You can eat, see a movie in the Hoff Theater, or run errands from banking to mailing to shopping. You can even purchase tickets to a concert! Below we have listed a few of the many opportunities that are available to you in the Union.

Campus Mail Services

assists the University community by meeting the mail needs in a timely and cost effective manner. Through the use of modern technology and equipment, Campus Mail Services processes all incoming and outgoing US Postal Service mail and on-campus mail. Campus Mail Services also processes all classes of domestic and international mail.

Mail Services for on-campus residents helps to stay connected to friends and family. There is nothing like getting a care package delivered. If you have specific questions about your mailing address, ask people at the Service Desk in your residence hall or in the area residential office. The staff there can answer all of your mailing questions.

Sending a letter across campus does not require a stamp. Just drop it in the "on-campus mailbox" located in your residence hall or at the Stamp Student Union Information Desk. Be sure that you do not put campus mail in the standard USPS mailboxes or it will be delayed getting to its destination.

Stamps can be purchased on-campus at Mail Boxes, Etc., from the postage machine on the ground floor of the Union, or from several of the ATMs on campus. The Campus Mail Facility, located across Route 1 from Founders Gate, also sells stamps.

USPS mailboxes can be found in three locations on campus: The Stamp Student Union, your residence hall or the Main Administration Building.

How Does It Feel?

Community Service is an excellent way to give back to your community while enhancing your education. Service allows you to explore social issues, develop job skills, apply classroom knowledge, and have fun through helping others. The Community Service Programs Office can help you explore ways to get involved in service.

Community Service Programs has information and resources about service opportunities on-campus and in the Maryland/DC/Virginia metro area. They also maintain a database with over 800 agencies and organizations looking for volunteers.

Opportunities range from one-time service projects to on-going community involvement. In addition, they publish a monthly newsletter, TerpServe, and maintain UM Series, a computer listserv. They also host service fairs twice a year, which bring 50 to 60 agencies to campus to help you find volunteer opportunities.

Community Service Programs also recognize students. Each year, an award is presented to an individual student for his or her commitment to community service and leadership. Please call or stop by the office to find out how you can get involved.

The Student Government Association (SGA) is a body of elected students who serve as an umbrella organization for all student groups at the University. The SGA is also responsible for voicing student interests and rights before the campus administration, the University's Board of Regents, and the Maryland State Legislature. In addition, SGA allocates the student activities fee to recognized student groups and oversees campus services such as Student Entertainment Events, Student Legal Aid, and the STAR Center.

To get involved with SGA, visit the website to learn how your college or community representative is. Speaking with that person will help you learn how to get involved in running for an elected office or serving as an unelected committee member. You can also stop by the weekly meeting in the Union to talk with the current members.

Greek Life refers to the Greek letter societies that make up the fraternity and sorority communities. There are 48 fraternities and sororities at Maryland, with an approximate membership of 3,000 students. Fraternities (for men) and sororities (for women) are designed to promote scholarship, leadership, friendship, and community service.

The official process to join a Greek organization is held at the beginning of every semester. To learn more about how to get involved in Greek Life, or for a complete list of the fraternities and sororities on campus, visit the Office of Campus Programs in the Union.

Office of Campus Programs

(OCP) wants you to get the most from your college experience. If you are looking to get involved, go to the Office of Campus Programs (OCP), room 2194 of the Stamp Student Union. Currently the University of Maryland has over 300 groups that represent the wide range of interests of our students. By starting, or joining an organization, you are taking the first step that will not only bring satisfaction to your University life, but will also go a long way in impacting your life's journey.

How do I get involved? The easiest way, and the way most students start, is by being a spectator. Whether attending a basketball game, a movie, lectures, concerts, or a multitude of other opportunities, you will begin to be linked to other students in a way not provided through the classroom. Another track to involvement comes through the decision to be a part of a group. You can make contact through the Office of Campus Programs or go to www.inform.umd.edu/getinvolved. If you become a consistent spectator, group member or leader, you will expand your knowledge while you are cultivating friendships.

There are also several annual events that you can look to for opportunities to get involved. The New Student Welcome and picnic showcases student leaders talking about the academic traditions of the campus and numerous opportunities before you. Events like the First Look Fair give you the chance to speak with representatives from the existing student groups and find out what it is that they do. The All Niter, is the Stamp Student Union's open house, Homecoming and Take Another Look Fair (second semester) are also opportunities for involvement.

Another tradition at the University of Maryland is Weekends at Maryland. This program was started several years ago specifically for students who choose to make the most of college life on the weekends. Each weekend, there are twenty-five to thirty activities are planned and advertised to students.

Maryland students can also find involvement opportunities that develop leadership skills through the programs offered by the Maryland Leadership Development Program. This program provides leadership development to interested students and student groups through workshops, consultations, demonstrations and all-campus retreats. You may be interested in the program for first year students. Call (301) 314-7164 for more information.

We at the Office of Campus Programs welcome you and hope that you make the most of your college years. Your contribution to the University of Maryland will not only be measured by what you learn but also by what you can share with others through your involvements.

Playing Sports

Sports Clubs are student organizations sponsored by Campus Recreation Services (CRS). There are more than 35 of these clubs that offer instruction, competition, practice, socializing, and leadership opportunities for all skill-levels.

Intramural Sports are great if you are looking to play team sports or participate in individual and dual sporting tournaments. Intramural sports offer students scheduled, structured activities that are open to men and women from the entire campus, including faculty and staff. CRS offers more than 30 intramural sports each year, including basketball, football, softball, and soccer. In addition, CRS hosts tournaments and special events such as swimming, sports trivia, and racquetball. Participants do not need to be pros—you can select your own level of competition.

Employment opportunities abound at CRS! They employ over 800 students each year. You could hold a variety of positions, including intramural sport official, lifeguard, outdoor trip leader, personal trainer, or facility staff. Contact the CRS for more information.

If you enjoy watching first class college athletics, you have come to the right place. The University of Maryland is a member of the highly touted Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) and fields varsity teams in baseball, basketball, cross country/track, field hockey, football, golf, gymnastics, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, volleyball, and wrestling.

Attending events at Maryland is easy. All full-time undergraduates pay an athletic fee which is good for admission to home regular season athletic events. For sports other than football and men's basketball, students are admitted by showing their student ID.

For men's basketball and football tickets, look for "Pick Up Schedules" which list ticket distribution times published in The Diamondback and available in Cole Field House. Tickets for football games can be picked up at Booth 3 on game day in Byrd Stadium and during the week at Cole Field House. Men's basketball tickets are distributed in the West Lobby of Cole Field House. Presentation of a University ID with appropriate game ticket will get you into men's basketball and football games.

If Golf is your game, the University operates an 18-hole, par 71 golf course west of Byrd Stadium. Nominal green fees are charged for Maryland students, staff, and faculty. For more information call (301) 403-4299

College Park and Beyond

The UM of College Park stretches from north of the Beltway to several miles south of the University. With Route 1 as the main corridor, College Park offers numerous opportunities for dining, entertainment, services, and shopping. Downtown College Park, just east of the University, caters primarily to the college crowd with restaurants, nightspots, and shops geared for students. Movie theaters, grocery stores, and shopping malls are located in adjacent cities such as Greenbelt, Hyattsville, Beltsville, and Adelphi. Shuttle-UM and Metrobus connect all of these locations to the University. For information about Shuttle-UM please see the Campus Essentials section of this guide.

Baltimore, one of the nation's eastern seaports, has quite a history. Founded in 1729, Baltimore is the birthplace of the Star Spangled Banner, home to the nation's oldest cathedral, and starting point for the country's first railroad. The city's continuing urban renewal program is one of the nation's most successful, resulting in a recent and remarkable renaissance. Baltimore's Inner Harbor now glistens with elegant downtown malls, quaint shops, a superb aquarium, and dozens of restaurants. The Baltimore Orioles play great major league baseball at nearby Camden Yards. The 2000 National Football League Super Bowl Champs, the Baltimore Ravens, also play in the Inner Harbor area. Fells Point, a rustic old shipping port, is within walking distance of the Inner Harbor and is full of eateries, shops, and nightlife.

Visiting Baltimore is easy using the MARC commuter train (adjacent to the Metro station). Just take the Camden Line to Baltimore's Inner Harbor-Camden Yards. From the New Carrollton Metro Station (accessible on the Shuttle-UM), you can take the Penn Line to the BWI Airport and Baltimore's Penn Station.

Capital of the nation, Washington, D.C., is home to countless federal offices, national organizations, and monuments. With a population of nearly 4 million, Washington, D.C. is truly a city "magnificent enough to grace a great nation." Among the population are diplomats, students, and immigrants who give the city a diversity that rivals New York City.

Some points of interest in Washington, D.C. include:

- Arlington National Cemetery
